

Practice what you prescribe.

We're not asking you to run a marathon, but keeping active daily needn't be a stretch.

Speak to your patients about how increasing their movement can help with their symptoms.

An aerial view of a running track with several runners in motion, their forms rendered as dark silhouettes against a purple background. The track has white lane markings. The overall scene is dynamic and emphasizes movement.

Practice what you preach.

We're not asking you to run a marathon, but keeping active daily needn't be a stretch.

Speak to your patients about how increasing their movement can help with their symptoms.